

ALLIANCE DEPARTMENT.

[While newspaper men are not eligible to membership in the Farmers' Alliance, if they even wished to become such, we feel it our duty to reserve a portion of the card for the farmers. Hereafter we can freely express their views in such matters as will tend to better their condition, and publish full reports of their meetings. Correspondence for this department is invited, but whatever expression may be found or sentiment upheld, it is understood that the editor of the Card is not responsible therefor, nor is it an indication that these views are his. The Farmers' Alliance is ours to a great extent, and we freely do what we can to assist them in their struggle for homes and rights.—Ed.]

The following is a letter from Congressman Perkins to his constituents at Parsons, and shows that the politicians are scheming to capture the alliance:

"My advice to all republican farmers is to identify themselves with the Farmers' Alliance, and to see that it is governed by wise and patriotic counsels, and to prevent the democrats and union labor people from using it to the prejudice of the republican party. When the farmers can get but from 10 to 15 cents per bushel for their corn and correspondingly low prices for their other products, I do not wonder that they feel dissatisfied and complain, but I believe that the condition will improve as the republican party continues in power and our friends should remember that we are yet suffering from the practices and policy of the late democratic administration. As yet the republicans have not had time to change the legislation so as to effect the material interests of the country to any considerable extent, and if the democratic party had continued in power four more years, no one could tell what the result would have been. I was raised on a farm and my sympathies are with the producing and working classes and the agricultural sections of the country shall receive my hearty endorsement and support."

Levant Laurels.

And after many days
We enjoyed a jolly good rain.
Everybody's spirits are now way up to 15 in the shade.
Mrs. C. Miles was confined to the house a few days this week with a bad cold.
Farmers who looked pretty blue a few days ago can now be heard enjoying a large coarse laugh.
Al Lutz, just south of town, succeeded Tom Blair on section 35-8 and will probably remain on for some time now.
The Rock Island pay car caused the usual number of smiling countenances to be seen on our streets last Wednesday.
W. E. Kleinhans, our genial foreman, goes home Thursday for a few days' visit with wife and little ones who remain on his homestead, just northwest of Goodland.
Messrs. Waters, W., and Garrett, carried off the "booby" on high five the other evening, while Messrs. Bassett and Spellman each wear a blue ribbon, regulation width.

We would warn all to look out for a "counterfeit bill" which is circulating in and around this section. Bill is nearly perfect, but can be distinguished by one or two defects.

James Smith, who has been in Rawlins county for the past week, looking after his timber claim there, says we are looking every bit as well as Rawlins. Of course, why not?

R. B. Yocum no longer pumpeth his water with a bucket and a mule. He now pulls a lever, and sets one of Jones' "can't be beat" challenge open wheel mills in motion. Reuben is another of our hustlers.

Owing to dry weather and no prospect of rain last week, quite a number cut their rye for hay, pastured their oats and wheat, and some went so far as to allow stock on their corn. Now they wish they hadn't gone quite so far.

C. D. Dumond came in over the Rock Island last evening, just returning from Earlville, Ill., where he has been at the bedside of his father for the past three weeks. He reports his father as being considerably improved and able to be up.

The laden air sweet smells disclose, And exude the fragrance of the corn grows. We know we have a bountiful crop. All rising from that excellent rain.

We care not who, or how they come: But to pass us we know they can't. For the Garden of Eden No. 2, Lies right in the heart of Levant.

Too Thin.

Kuka Kornels.

A good rain fell last Friday.
G. Cornwell went to Colby last Saturday.

Ed Pickard has a colt which strained its leg very badly last week.
J. F. Rowland was visiting at C. H. Ogilvie's last Sunday.

The alliance was postponed till Tuesday last week.
An exhibition will be given at the Kuka school house in two weeks.
